TINNED FISH

Generally tinned fish is cheap grocery store food, a convenient commodity for a hasty sandwich at best. Along the Mediterranean, especially Spain, it is at the complete opposite of the culinary spectrum. Tinned fish is treated as something special. It is a star ingredient, not relegated to a mix with mayo. Great tinned fish is eaten on its own, straight from the tin, prized for its flavor.

BONITO VENTRESCA TUNA

Ventresca tuna is probably the richest, most sensual bit of fish you will ever take out of a tin. It is made from the belly (Toro in Japanese, Ventresca in Spanish), which means it is an incredibly rare tuna. Ventresca Tuna is smooth, almost velvety in texture. Dress with a good olive oil and a squeeze of lemon. It changes the idea of “just opening a can of tuna for lunch” into a whole new category of elegance. Below are some of the Mediterranean’s best. Enjoy!

SEEDS & GRAINS

AMARANTH SEEDS

This ancient, gluten-free grain is loaded with history and protein. Also known as “Inca Wheat”, it is a crunchy grain used in Mexico to make sweets and souvenir treats after being popped over heat. In the U.S., the seeds are often used to make a gooey hot breakfast cereal, or popped over very high heat for about 10 seconds and enjoyed as a snack.

QUINOA

These seeds, considered a “super grain”, come in different colors (red, white and black), with slight differences in flavor and texture. Packed with protein, quinoa has sustained humans for centuries and is considered to be the most important seed of South America. Quinoa is quick-cooking and works as a replacement for rice, couscous, or wheat.

DRIED CORN

Red Crimson Popping Corn. This variety of popping corn is nearly hull-less, and despite its beautiful ruby color, it pops up white as snow.

HOW TO COOK POPCORN

I'm always surprised when people come in and ask how I make popcorn. This should be part of the repertoire of every red-blooded American! Unfortunately, a whole generation seems to have grown up on microwave popcorn. That horrible smell which clings to the air for hours after doing your “magic” in the microwave.

Happily, making real popcorn is not only easy but also fun, especially if you have good music going in the background. Use a hand-cranked popcorn popper that goes right on the stove top. It costs about twenty-five dollars, and if you are a serious popcorn fan, it's a worthwhile investment. You add about a table spoon of fat (duck fat is great, but olive oil is fine and dandy as well), turn the heat to medium-high, and when the fat is hot, you add about ¼ cup popcorn. Turn the crank to make sure each kernel is covered with hot oil and then wait for the popping. Once it starts, gently crank away, hopefully in rhythm to your music.

Once the popping ends, open the lid and add a little butter or more oil and some salt. Crank to mix the seasonings and call it a snack. If you don't have a popcorn popper, you can use a big pan with a lid, only it's not as much fun.

MAST BROTHERS

MAST BROTHERS - BROOKLYN DARK & MILK CHOCOLATE SELECTION

Dark Chocolate blend 70% cacao. Mast Brothers' very first House Blend. This balanced chocolate bar has hints of red wine, tobacco, and plum. Perfect for nibbling and sharing with friends over coffee or wine. 70g

Almond Chocolate 70% cacao. The almonds are roasted in olive oil and sea salt, roughly chopped and distributed over single-origin, Dominican Republic dark chocolate. The result is an Almond & Sea Salt Chocolate bar that is smooth, sweet and savory all at the same time. 70g

Smoke Chocolate 70% cacao. Smoked cacao from Papua New Guinea and bourbon vanilla bean from Madagascar are slowly stone-ground over the course of days and then aged. You will smell the smoke when you open the wrapper, giving you hints of roasted marshmallow. A truly outstanding chocolate bar. 70g

Sea Salt Chocolate 70% cacao. The chocolate is blended with organic cane sugar and accented with French fleur de sel that has been hand harvested by Guerande collectors in the traditional method. Vegan. 70g

Milk Chocolate 60% cacao. The signature milk chocolate bar made with Kentucky buttermilk. 70g

Coffee Chocolate 60% cacao. The brainchild of Mast Brothers and the roasters at Stumptown Coffee. A perfect pairing of coffee and chocolate. 70g

ESSENTIALS for EXQUISITE CUISINE

Prunier Tradition. Manufactured according to the Prunier methods. The fine characteristics of this caviar are indicative of the growing popularity of the special flavor of Baeri and its caviar. The Siberian Sturgeon, Acipenser Baerii, is one of the most magnificent types of sturgeon. Like its cousin from the Caspian Sea, it can grow up to three meters long and weigh several hundred kilograms. Prunier Tradition is enjoying growing popularity with its unique hazelnut flavor. 125g, 250g

Prunier Heritage. The rarest caviar in the world! Only 8-10% of Prunier's caviar production can be set aside as the "Heritage" selection. Prepared according to Persian methods, this particular caviar, with its grains of light color, is Prunier's ultimate pride. Because of its rarity, it was never a consistent feature on the menu and was often considered the private reserve of Emile Prunier. 125g, 250g

Prunier Malossol. This particular caviar preparation, also known as pure salted, is one of the masterpieces of Prunier caviar preparation. Rich in character due to its unique salt content and preparation, the "Malossol" caviar pays tribute to a time when Prunier would specially produce this caviar with its particular "Beluga" taste for its overseas clients in America and Japan. The pilots Nungesser and Coli took a box of "Prunier Malossol" caviar along with them on their historic transatlantic flight in 1927. 125g, 250g Astara, which takes its name from a city on the Caspian Sea, is a reference for high-end seafood products and caviar for nearly 30 years. As a partner of the finest restaurants of French gastronomy, Astara now invites itself to your table. With a strong and singular identity, Astara offers excellent caviar through exclusive partnerships with certified breeding farms, guaranteeing a top-of-the-range selection.

BELUGA ROYAL, IRAN

THE BELUGA IS THE RAREST AND THE MOST RENOWNED STURGEON OF ALL. IT CAN BE 4 METERS LONG AND BE MORE THAN 100 YEARS OLD. FROM HUSO-HUSO STURGEON, THE BELUGA IS THE CLOSEST TO WILD CASPIAN CAVIAR WITH BIG-SIZED, CREAMY EGGS AND SOFT ALMOND FLAVOR.

250G, 100G

OSSETRA IMPERIAL

KNOWN AS ONE OF THE BEST CAVIAR, THE OSSETRA COMES FROM THE RUSSIAN GULDENSTAEDTII SPECIE. ITS MEDIUM-SIZED AND FIRM EGGS HAVE BEAUTIFUL AMBER COLOR.

1.8KG, 1KG, 500G,
250G, 100G, 50G

BAERI IMPERIAL

AN UNFORGETTABLE CAVIAR, BORN OF A VERY RIGOROUS SELECTION OF THE SPECIES "BAERI". THE IMPERIAL CAVIAR BAERI WILL SURPRISE EVEN THE MOST SAVVY CONSUMERS THROUGH A LIGHT SALTING WHICH ALLOWS A GOOD EXPRESSION OF DELICATE AND REFINED FLAVORS. A NATIVE OF RUSSIA.

1.8KG, 1KG, 500G,
250G, 100G, 50G

OSSETRA RESERVE CAVIAR

THE KASPIA RESERVE OSSETRA CAVIAR IS THE SELECTION BY OUR EXPERTS OF THE BIGGEST AND THE MOST BEAUTIFUL EGGS OF THE STURGEON, PROMISING AN UNFORGETTABLE TASTING. STRONG, THIS AMBER COLORED CAVIAR GUARANTEES A LONG TASTE IN MOUTH - 50G, 100G, 250G, 500G

ROYAL BELUGA CAVIAR

IT IS DISTINGUISHED BY THE SPLENDOR OF ITS EGGS, ALSO CLEAR GREY TO DARK GREY, AND ITS MELTING TEXTURE, BUTTERED, SOFT AND DELICATE, VERY SUBTLE AND WITH A GREAT BALANCE - 100G, 250G

SMOKED SALMON

The story of Balik. After 1918, following the death of the Tsar family, this culinary delight sank into oblivion. But 30 years ago, the secret recipe was rediscovered, and today the world's most noble smoked salmon comes from the Toggenburg in Switzerland. In the Balik smoked salmon manufactory high up in Ebersol, a small village nestled snugly in the midst of an unspoiled hilly landscape, the "King of Fish" is smoked by hand and exported to countries around the world. Numerous royal families in Europe – from Denmark to England and Spain – are regular and loyal clients. Today, Balik is synonymous with the traditional salmon smoking method as practiced at the court of the Russian Tsars. The manufactory smokes and refines selected salmon cuts according to the secret recipe of the last purveyor of the imperial court. The recipe was entrusted to Hans Gerd Kubel in 1978 by Israel Kaplan, the grandson of the purveyor to the imperial court.

A delicacy standing out in a time of abundance. The salmon from the Norwegian fjords is transported over the Ricken pass to Ebersol. Up here, at an altitude of 920 meters above sea level, against the magnificent backdrop of the Alps, the freshly caught salmon is checked a second time for its quality, processed by hand and smoked. "Our salmon is produced in Switzerland, a country without any fishing tradition, and in a location in the hilly Toggenburg region which actually does not make much business sense", says Peter G Rebeiz. "You therefore might be tempted to smoke the salmon in Norway or Scotland. But no other place allows the salmon to achieve such a consummate taste as the Toggenburg", he says proudly. Ultimately, this is not surprising, for the crisp alpine air, the company's own spring water, the quality of the firewood and the meticulous craftsmanship of the staff are the secrets behind Balik salmon. A complete refrigerating chain guarantees its freshness when delivered to clients, which is ensured also in postal consignments thanks to a purpose-developed packaging. In Switzerland, Balik clients receive the salmon they have ordered the very next day. Balik is a genuine manufactory. Its only two pieces of mechanical equipment are the scales and the vacuuming unit.

Surely the finest smoked salmon in the world!

SMOKED SALMON

DANIEL BOULUD

Renowned Michelin-starred Chef Daniel Boulud unveiled an original line of smoked salmon in collaboration with Catsmo Artisan Smokehouse, a small-batch smokehouse located in Walkill, NY, in the heart of the Catskill Mountains. Catsmo uses the highest quality ingredients and has maintained a tradition of excellence for 19 years, using the most precise methods of selecting and smoking salmon.

The collection's global flavors are created through a unique pairing of herbs and spirits, inspired by Chef Boulud's travels. The Highland flavor, featuring subtle flavors of ground cardamom and a hint of whisky, was influenced by the British Isles; the Riviera flavor, with fragrances of fennel, basil, pink peppercorn and Ricard, by summers in the south of France; and the Baja flavor, highlighting the aroma of cilantro with tequila, by a trip to Mexico where Chef Daniel met with the country's best chefs and explored the cuisine and local ingredients.

"Smoked salmon is a staple for me when entertaining at home – by itself it is delicate and elegant, and adds rich flavor to hors d'oeuvres, salads and sandwiches. My goal was to source and smoke a superb salmon, then layer in interesting flavors to give an added element of depth and versatility to the fish." – Chef Daniel Boulud

I first met Eric

when I owned the gourmet grocery stores Dean & DeLuca. I was immediately impressed with his commitment to offering only the highest quality merchandise in his store, American Gourmet. It is rare to see such an extensive selection of exceptional food and wine as Eric has assembled in St Barts.

Since our first meeting, I have been a regular customer of American Gourmet. Eric has proven to be not only a wonderfully personable provisioner of quality food, but also a terrific source of information for visitors to the island and beyond.
